Contractor Safety Responsibilities

All workers, during the course of their employment at _____ must accept safety as a personal responsibility. Each one of us is expected to develop and maintain a safe working environment by recognizing unsafe acts and unsafe conditions, and taking the necessary corrective action. It is the responsibility of each worker to be aware of and follow all federal and provincial laws dealing with Occupational Health and Safety at all times and complies with the applicable laws as a minimum. Each individual, as a result of experience, health and safety training, and personal initiative, is expected to correct his/her unsafe acts and to counsel others if necessary.

Safety, therefore, is the responsibility of each and every one of us. This is a condition of employment and an important part of our overall performance.
